

Vietstock Expo is Back in 2022

Dear Partners and Stakeholders,

Informa Markets' Vietstock Expo 2021 and its co-located events: VietFeed 2021 and VietMeat 2021, have made the difficult decision to cancel the 2021 event, shifting their focus to the 2022 show, which will take place on October 12 - 14, 2022. The Vietstock Expo team have come up with this tough yet necessary decision in the best interest of our exhibitors, visitors, partners, stakeholders, and staff.

Amid these new event dates, Vietstock Expo continues to help its clients grow their businesses. The digital marketing services offered by Viestock Expo let you explore and find business opportunities through email lead generation, website advertisements, and exclusive webinars. Vietstock Expo will also launch a comprehensive online community platform for the livestock and aquaculture sectors wherein you can access business listing and sourcing, get industry news, attend webinars, meet with clients through a business matching program, and attend virtual events all in one B2B platform.

We regret any inconvenience that this may cause you. We are disheartened to deliver this news, but believe this is the best action we can take to prioritize the health and safety of everyone involved. For the time being, we will continue to help grow your business through our digital services while diligently planning for an even greater comeback to the live show in 2022.

Should you have further questions about the event, please feel free to contact our team:
